Report Virtual Military Alliance Being Formed By Anti-Aggression Bloc

AERIAL AGREEMENT BASIS OF ALLIANCE

Great Britain, France, Russia, Poland, Rumania To Be Included

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, April 15.—An aerial agreement embracing Great Britain, France, Russia, Poland and Rumania and amounting to a virtual military alliance strengthening Europe's anti-aggression bloc will be announced shortly, according to reliable information in Paris today.

Strong diplomatic pressure brought by Britain and France has resulted in agreement by Rumania to permit passage of Russian troops across Rumanian territory in event of actual conflict, it was understood.

This, coupled with the aerial understanding, was hailed as major triumph for Franco-British "peace diplomacy." Poland has not yet agreed to permit passage of Soviet forces over her soil but has promised full air force cooperation.

Coincident with this development, authoritative information here stated that Poland and Rumania had revived a secret clause in a ten-year old treaty providing for (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Local golfers, who were all set to pry off the lid today, were deeply disappointed in the kind of weather dished out to them for the occasion. Continued rains during the past week and the weather today was anything but ideal for the occasion. A lot of golfers have been out limbering up during recent warm spells, but the week-end around April 15 is sort of looked forward to as opening day.

Last Sunday was Easter; and churches of New Castle were crowded. Wonder how many of the Easter service attenders will be missing from the services tomorrow?

Pa New believes that something should be done at once about the disreputable appearing street signs in the city. It would even help a lot if the signs were removed. Many of the signs are hanging from the poles at fancy angles and are anything but attractive.

No new detours are listed in the local district for the period ending April 28, according to the Detour Bulletin of the Pennsylvania state highway system. This bulletin is kept posted in the lobby of The News for the benefit of motorists who are planning trips anywhere in the state.

According to trout fishers who were out during the night, there was a terrific downpour about 2 o'clock this morning, which caused streams to become very muddy and to rise rapidly, ruining prospects of good fishing for a day or two.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at five p. m. Friday are as follows:

Maximum temperature, 48.
Minimum temperature, 28.
Precipitation, .18 inches; rain and snow.
River stage, 8.2 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:

Maximum temperature, 80.
Minimum temperature, 51.
No precipitation.

British Moves Vital To Them

LONDONERS IN STREET OUTSIDE PARLIAMENT BUILDING

As Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain announced British-French anti-aggression guarantees to Greece and Rumania during an emergency session in the House of Commons in London, thousands of Londoners massed outside the parliament buildings to hear the news. This radio-photo was taken at that time. The British-French announcement drew a scathing denunciation from the Rome-Berlin axis.

No New Taxes Likely At Legislative Session

By TOM R. BRISLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 15.—New taxes at this session of the legislature became less probable today as the James administration apparently staked its future fiscal policy on a "gamble" that may ultimately result in a special session.

Gov. Arthur H. James declared that unless the state supreme court decision invalidating the five-mill franchise tax on out-of-state corporations by which the state stands to lose approximately $35,000,000 a special session may be necessary.

"Isn't it better for us to gamble on spending $200,000 for a special session," the governor asserted, "rather than to abandon our chance of regaining this $35,000,000 or more?"

Program Seen

Though he would not commit himself definitely, the governor's comment was taken to mean:

1. That the legislature would proceed with its present tax (Continued On Page Two)

Apartment House Burns At Monessen

Twenty-Two Persons Escape After Warning By Dog—Loss About $80,000

(International News Service)

MONESSEN, Pa., April 15.—Twenty-two persons escaped almost certain death today—thanks to a collie dog—when fire gutted a three-story apartment building at an estimated loss of $80,000.

Miss Anita McGuinness, living on the second floor with her aged father, was awakened by her tugging, sniffling collie, "Buddy." She found the apartment filled with smoke and awakened her father, who telephoned an alarm. Before both, led by the dog, were able to escape, Miss McGuinness collapsed.

Police who arrived a few minutes later fired shots to awaken other tenants in the building. John Lescaac, brother of the police chief, carried Miss McGuinness and helped her father, from the flaming building over occupants from the second and third floors came down ladders or stairways, aided by firemen.

Rowland To Speak At Farrell Dinner

Captain Roger W. Rowland, Secretary of Property and Supplies, and State Senator Mason Owlett, Republican leader in the senate, will be the speakers tonight at a dinner of the Lincoln Republican Club of Mercer County. The dinner is being held in the Saxon Home of Farrell.

A number of Lawrence County Republicans have been invited to attend the dinner and expect to do so.

Paris Is Stunned By President's Peace Move

(International News Service)

PARIS, April 15.—President Roosevelt's surprising peace appeals to Italy and Germany stunned Paris today. Newspaper offices were flooded with telephone calls.

United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt gave copies of Roosevelt's messages to Premier Edouard Daladier. The first unofficial reaction in informed circles was: "The proposals are so neat and clear they could change the face of the world."

Doubt was expressed, however, that clear and unequivocal answers would be forthcoming from the dictator nations.

Premier Daladier notified Bullitt that France subscribes to Mr. Roosevelt's proposals "completely and unreservedly."

"The time has come," the semi-official newspaper Le Temps declared, "for Hitler to give the world solid proof of the will for peace which he always said animates him. The occasion has been offered by the sensational message of Mr. Roosevelt."

"This is the most important gesture yet made toward maintenance of peace and this initiative from the president of the United States in favor of a period of non-aggression for 10 to 25 years is of such a nature that can bring about happy results in the international situation."

Russia May Enter Anti-Aggression Bloc

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 15.—The British government pressed forward today with an intensive effort to draw Soviet Russia into the anti-aggression bloc which Great Britain and France are forming to checkmate the Rome-Berlin axis.

International News Service learned on reliable authority that Great Britain is now seeking a formidable Anglo-Russian defensive military alliance and mutual assistance pact.

Under this proposed London-Moscow agreement, it was revealed, the air fleets of Great Britain, France and Soviet Russia would "cooperate against aggressors."

Under such a system, if it should be put into effect, Germany would be forced to meet aerial opposition from both east and west in the event the Reich was deemed to have undertaken further aggression.

British authorities expressed hope that inclusion of Soviet Russia in the Anglo-French "peace chain" would spur toward completion the European front which Germany and Italy regard as an attempt to "encircle" the totalitarian nations.

Violence Occur In Coal Fields

Mine And Tipple Are Dynamited In Vicinity Of Clearfield

(International News Service)

CLEARFIELD, Pa., April 15.—State police today were investigating an outbreak of violence in this soft coal community which resulted in the dynamiting of one mine and the burning of the tippie of another.

Police reported that the Hill Brothers Coal Company mine drift mouth at Morrisdale had been dynamited shut and the tram road torn up. At the Radomsky mine, at Hawk Run, a tippie was burned down, state police said.

Officials at the Hill Brothers company said they had closed two other mines and had taken coal from the one at Morrisdale exclusively for Morrisdale homes. Private Ralph Mears was in charge of the investigation.

Oppose Changes In Neutrality Law

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—Representative Louis Graham of Beaver has submitted to the House of Representatives a petition of the Catholic Daughters of America, No. 231, New Castle, opposing any proposed changes in the existing neutrality law. Amendments are being backed by administration as well as non-administration forces.

The petition was referred to the foreign affairs committee which is now holding hearings on neutrality legislation.

Britain Strengthening Defenses At Gibraltar

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 15.—British anxiety was suddenly focussed on Gibraltar and Tangier today following receipt of news tending to bear out week-long rumors that the next move of the Rome-Berlin axis may center in the Spanish Moroccan zone.

Whitehall was plainly worried, and the perturbation was communicated to the French when Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent under-secretary of the foreign office, saw French Ambassador Charles Corbin this afternoon.

Watching Situation

Officially, Whitehall spokesmen would admit nothing beyond the fact that the government is "watching."

Second Alarm For Fire Is Sounded In Accidental Manner

Two Alarms Come In For Small Fire On Crawford Avenue Friday Evening

While putting box 311 in shape after an alarm had been turned in for a small fire in the home of James F. Reed of 314 South Crawford avenue at 9:17 o'clock Friday evening, a second alarm was turned in accidentally, causing several more departments to run to the scene.

The blaze was in a clothes press in the Reed home. No one was at home at the time, the blaze being discovered by a passerby, who turned in the alarm from box 311, at the corner of County Line street and Crawford avenue. Damage of around $400 resulted.

The man who turned in the alarm stated that he had difficulty in turning in the alarm, and was showing Assistant Chief Dart what he had done when the alarm system was tripped off a second time.

Firemen were summoned to the dump at Mercer street and Park avenue at 10:21 o'clock Friday night when debris caught fire and continued to smolder.

Firemen were called to the Bruce P. Love home at 116 East Edison avenue at 12:40 o'clock Friday afternoon, when dust which had accumulated in the cold air duct caught fire, filling the home with smoke. There was no loss.

LONDON, April 15.—The London Daily Telegraph reported from Berlin today that rocketing prices and an acute shortage of foodstuffs in the German capital are leading to "angry scenes" daily in the public markets.

Rain Spoils Trout Fishing In County

Rain last night spoiled trout fishing today, according to reports brought to the city by fishermen who journeyed to local trout streams. The heavy rain riled the water and very few trout were caught.

There were expectations yesterday that it would not rain last night and that fair catches would be made. However, the downpour made the catches small.

Roosevelt Makes Surprise Move As Peace Effort

Asks Hitler And Mussolini for Pledge Of Peace For At Least 10 Years

SEEKS TO HALT PLUNGE INTO WAR

World Conference Is Proposed To Settle Arms And State Problems

By GEORGE DURNON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 15.—World conferences to settle the arms and trade problems now besetting all major powers were proposed today by President Roosevelt if Chancellor Hitler of Germany and Premier Mussolini of Italy will pledge themselves to peace for at least 10 years.

In the boldest stroke of his administration to stop the headlong plunge toward war, President Roosevelt advised the two great dictators of Europe that the United States would participate in these conferences.

Proposals Made

Urging that Hitler and Mussolini "leave their guns outside the room when and if they engage in the discussions designed to cure the world's ills, the president's momentous message proposed:

1. Pledge from Hitler and Mussolini that their armed forces will not attack or invade the territory or possessions of any of the independent nations of Europe. These pledges would run for from 10 to 25 years.

2. If the two dictators will indicate a willingness to join in a non-aggression pact, Mr. Roosevelt himself will immediately transmit the proposals to the other governments involved.

3. If such a non-aggression pact (Continued On Page Two)

Deadlock Develops On Neutrality Law

Hearings Show Wide Divergence

Senate Committee And Congress Not In Agreement On Proposed Changes

PITTMAN PLAN MAY BE COMMITTEE'S IDEA

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT International News Service Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 15.—With two weeks of public hearings completed, the senate foreign relations committee—apparently the entire congress as well—came to a virtual deadlock today over differing proposals for neutrality legislation to replace the existing law.

There was a bare possibility that the proposal of the foreign relations committee chairman, Senator Pittman (D) Nevada, might be recommended by the committee. But there was no sentiment in the senate proper to indicate that this proposal might be written into law.

Cash And Carry Law

Pittman's bill would set up a strict cash and carry law, permitting sale of munitions and non-military supplies to any belligerent able to send its ships to American shores, pay for the goods and haul it away.

Opposition to the Pittman bill was vigorous, and based on the contention that it would permit a belligerent in control of the high seas to get supplies. To this extent it was admitted by sponsors that it was unneutral, but these supporters, like the administration, leaned toward England and France in their sympathies, and felt that the British navy could control the seas and thus benefit from the proposed law.

At any rate, the Pittman bill has become the objective of the administration campaigners who earlier sought a law which would permit the president to name the aggressor in any foreign conflict and throw American economic support to the defenders. Early in the committee hearings it became obvious that the latter objective was utterly beyond attainment.

NATIONS IS SEEN IN DEFENSE PACT

mutual assistance against aggression. No new agreement has been signed, diplomatic sources said, but because of the growing threat of Nazi-Fascist aggression Poland and Rumania decided to resurrect and reinforce their old agreement for defense.

Decision of Rumania to permit passage of Soviet troops has removed the chief obstacle to Russian cooperation with the democratic allies in event of war. Diplomatic and semi-official circles expressed keen gratification over the development.

Economic Agreements Also

Important economic agreements also are bound up with the air force pact. It was learned, Soviet Russia has agreed to cease supplying Italy with grain and oil in exchange for Anglo-French commercial concessions. These will reimburse Russia for the Italian losses. Three-quarters of Italy's huge fuel consumption are traceable to Russian sources.

Further progress in liquidating minor European difficulties in behalf of a general agreement against further expansionism by force was seen in diplomatic negotiations between Hungary and Rumania. Well-informed sources said that a "detente," or breathing-spell, could soon be looked for in the somewhat strained relations between those two countries. Both will soon begin withdrawing armed forces massed on their frontiers following break-up of Czechoslovakia and Hungarian occupation of Rutenia (Carpato-Ukraine).

BRITISH DEFENSES AT GIBRALTAR STRENGTHENED

ing the situation very closely", but it was learned Sir Alexander admitted to Corbin that the news was very unsatisfactory.

Information concerning the concentration of Spanish troops in the Gibraltar zone continues to be received by British and French sources. Lavish equipment is being mounted in the La Linea region, while on the other side of the straits, Spaniards are feverishly fortifying their Moroccan frontier, apparently to prevent the French Moroccan army from entering the Spanish zone if an attack is launched on Gibraltar.

In virtually all parts of the British empire, emergency defense measures were initiated or augmented today to guard against any possible surprise attack by Europe's totalitarian powers.

Precautions Taken

With German and Italian anger whipped up by British guarantees to Poland, Greece and Rumania and with 40 German warships scheduled to leave German ports for Spanish waters on April 18, Great Britain went over her far-flung defenses with a fine tooth comb.

At Gibraltar, British stronghold in the western Mediterranean, still further precautions were taken, evidently in anticipation of the presence of German warships in that vicinity.

The war office in London announced that the first battalion of Welsh guards, at present stationed in Surrey, will proceed to Gibraltar April 22 "for a tour of duty."

Reports from "The Rock" stated British naval and military staff officers there decided upon further defense measures in addition to barricading the main highway at the border opposite La Linea, Spain.

Great boom defenses were flung into position at both entrances to Gibraltar's famed admiralty harbor during the morning.

Automobile owned by Mark Must which was reported stolen last night, was found by Policemen Tewell and Reese early this morning near East Washington and South Mercer streets.

Glenn Ritchey, 13, Altoona, who was visiting relatives in Akron and attempted to hitch-hike home was found here today by Lieutenant C. P. Suber and was detained here pending advice from his parents.

Auto owned by Ernest Barker, 410 North Cedar street, reported stolen Friday, was found this morning by Patrolman Frank Reynolds on the South Side.

Police received a report today that $40.00, was missing from the Constant Russ residence, 108 South Wayne street.

Lester Altman, 510 East Meyer avenue, reported he parked his Eagle bicycle in an East Falls street parking lot yesterday and claims it was stolen.

Police were advised today that John Oltman, 1612 Hamilton street, reported missing here, was located by a son in Warren, O., Friday.

Traffic Commissioner T. J. Jones today stated he was prepared to handle any increase in business lane traffic this afternoon. Last Saturday patrolmen were assigned to Washington street corners to keep traffic moving fast as possible.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. J. Daniel Reebe

Mrs. Mary E. Reebe, aged 65 years, wife of J. Daniel Reebe, of 218 Fairmont avenue, passed away in the Jameson Memorial hospital Friday evening at 7:55, after four weeks of illness.

Mrs. Reebe was born in St. Petersburg, Pa., on December 7, 1873, daughter of Harry A. Brunton and Anna L. Couch. Her mother preceded her in death, but her father survives.

Mrs. Reebe lived in New Castle since 1880. On the 13th of April, 1893, she was married to Mr. Reebe. She was a member of the First Baptist church, and of several of the church classes.

Her husband, one son, Earl P. Reebe, and one grandson, Harold E. Reebe, of this city, her father, Harry A. Brunton of Youngstown, O., brother, Harry E. Brunton of New Castle, and a number of nieces and nephews, survive.

She was preceded in death by her mother, sister, Mrs. Blanche Butler, and one son, Harold Reebe, a number of years ago.

The body has been removed to the Campbell funeral home where services will be conducted Monday at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. Dr. C. H. Heaton of the First Baptist church in charge. Interment will be in Oak Park mausoleum. The family will meet friends Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, and Sunday evening from 7 to 9.

Mrs. Theresa McGivern Carr

Mrs. Theresa McGivern Carr, wife of Charles Carr, died at her home, 1243 Logan avenue, Youngstown, O., from a sudden stroke Friday afternoon.

Williams and Edward McGivern of Cleveland, Charles McGivern of Gary, Ind., and James C. McGivern of New Castle. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mrs. Mary Lutton

Mrs. Mary Lutton, aged 65 years, widow of Louis Lutton, died at her home, 950 East Cherry street extension, of complications Friday night.

Mrs. Lutton was born at Princeton on August 31, 1873. Most of her years were passed on East Cherry street, and she had a wide acquaintance and many friends in that district. She was a faithful member of the Valley Way Mission.

Her husband died four and a half years ago. Surviving are the following children: Paul Lutton of New Castle, Mrs. Frank Schuring of East Cherry street, and Ralph Lutton of the West Pittsburg road, seven grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, three brothers, John and Herman Burnside of New Castle, Charles Burnside of Ellwood City, two sisters, Mrs. Earl Johnson of Chancellors Valley and Mrs. Kate Lockrist of New Castle, a half-brother, Robert Burnside, and half-sister, Mrs. Robert Witherow, both of New Castle.

The body, now at the Ritchie funeral home, will be returned to the residence this evening, there to remain until the time of the funeral, Monday afternoon at 2:30. The funeral will be conducted in the Valley Way Mission with Rev. D. N. Scott, the pastor, in charge. Interment will be in Savannah cemetery.

William Sherman Powell

William Sherman Powell, aged 73 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Rachel Gill, West Middlesex, at an early hour today.

Mr. Powell was born in Butler county. He is survived by his wife, Deliah Lkins Powell, the following children: Mrs. Deliah Close of Neshannock Falls, Mrs. Nellie Reed and Mrs. Catherine Webster of Farrell, Mrs. Rachel Gill of West Middlesex, Mrs. Harry Thompson of Sharon, Albert of New Wilmington, R. D. John of Brookfield, Herbert of Sharon, and the following brothers and sisters, John of Maryland, Mrs. Edith Wise of Sharon, Mrs. Louise Gray of West Middlesex, Laura of Sharon, Mrs. Dora Reinhart of Greenville, Mrs. Daisy Large and Oscar of Sharon. R. D. Mrs. Powell died in March, 1929.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home where he died, Monday at 2:30 p. m., and interment will be in Bethel cemetery. The body will be at the Sharp funeral home, New Wilmington, until Sunday.

Dickey Morris Wallace

Dickey Morris Wallace, 71, died in his Beaver Falls home, Friday.

The body will be brought to the Mahoning Funeral parlors here then removed to the home of George Bryan, 1619 Eighth avenue, Beaver Falls. The funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the First M. E. church, Beaver Falls with interment in Grandview cemetery, Beaver Falls.

Dallas Bender Funeral

Relatives, neighbors and friends paid tribute yesterday to the late Dallas Bender, well-known Willow Grove resident. The funeral was conducted in the afternoon at the home, with Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, in charge.

Pallbearers were Jack Butler, William McKinley, David Bender, Charles Marsh, Phillip Stephenson and William Wigley.

Interment was in the Mt. Jackson U. P. cemetery.

John Stitt Funeral Time

Funeral services for John L. Stitt, 35, of 10329 Dale avenue, Cleveland, O., will be held Monday morning at nine o'clock from the Roman Catholic church, corner of West Lorain avenue and West Boulevard, Cleveland, O.

Mr. Roosevelt cabled his lengthy message directly to Hitler, but an identical one to Mussolini was cabled by Secretary of State Cordell Hull because technically the Italian premier is not the head of a nation. "Are you willing to give assurance that your armed forces will not attack or invade the territory or possessions of the following independent nations?"

The president then listed every nation in Europe and suggested that the life of the proposed pact for peace be from 10 to 25 years.

The comprehensiveness of Mr. Roosevelt's stroke was emphasized by the disclosure that copies of the messages were cabled to all U. S. diplomatic representatives in the world at 9 o'clock last night and every government of Europe, including Great Britain and France was thus advised.

Japan Ignored

Japan, third powerful member of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Anti-Comintern Pact and now waging actual war in China, was ignored by the president in his move today. This evoked considerable comment in diplomatic circles, and some observers saw in this fact a possible effort to pull Germany and Hitler away from their Asiatic ally.

The American chief executive made it clear to Germany and Italy that he was not taking the lead in a move for peace—a position which Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain occupied in the last crisis—but that he would see it through to the end.

Mr. Roosevelt said that he, himself, would act as the intermediary for the exchange of the diplomatic notes which would necessary follow between all the nations of Europe if the dictators indicated their willingness to negotiate.

The president's unexpected move evoked approval from members of congress. Typical of the comment was that from Speaker Bankhead of the house—"a desire for peace should meet the approval of the entire world."

Reaches Hitler

BERLIN, April 15.—President Roosevelt's peace appeal was communicated to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler in Munich today. The message was "closely studied," it was said.

No Official Action Yet

ROME, April 15.—The Italian ministry of popular culture stated today it had no official information concerning the appeal addressed to Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler by President Roosevelt.

No official reaction is expected pending an exchange of views between Berlin and Rome.

IT'S MORE LIKE APRIL WEATHER

Myers Takes Helm At Leslie Monday

New Resident Manager Is Named Today By Jacob E. Raffel

Appointment of Edward I. Myers as the new resident manager of the Leslie hotel, effective Monday, was announced today by Jacob E. Raffel, the hotel's managing director.

Myers, who has been associated with the Leslie Hotel company for more than 10 years, comes here from the Beaver Valley. He is married and has two children, Joanne, aged 13, and Howard, aged two. They are taking up residence here.

The new manager is well known by many through this district. "I'm glad to be locating here," he said, "and I look forward to making many new friends."

Active management of the hotel has been under Raffel's direction for some time, but with the coming of Myers Raffel who continues as managing director here, will devote more of his time to other hotel company interests. He will also continue to maintain his residence at the hotel here.

RUTHE FULLWOOD IS FRIDAY BRIDE

Miss Ruthe Fullwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fullwood of Spruce street, was lovely in a floor length gown of white net, caught at the shoulders with satin bows, Friday evening when she became the bride of George Cornea, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cornea of Florence avenue. The date also marked the birthday anniversary of the bride's mother.

Rev. Harold McCurdy read the services at 7:30 at the Epworth M. E. church and the single ring ceremony was used.

Vera Sweet, her only attendant, wore a poudre blue floor length tulle gown and carried red roses and pink sweet peas. The bride's corsage was of roses and white sweet peas, and she also wore an heirloom diamond ring given her by her grandmother.

Ray Miller served the groom as best man.

Mrs. Gertrude Kerr, aunt of the bride, was hostess at her Butler avenue home following the ceremony at a small reception for members of the immediate families and close friends.

Aides in serving refreshments were Mrs. A. E. Fullwood and Margaret McCracken.

Mr. and Mrs. John Leasure of Youngstown, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Cash Honnefer of Ellwood City, attended from out of town.

The bride was graduated with the class of January, 39, from the local high school, and Mr. Cornea is a graduate of here with the class of January, 36. He is now employed with the Penn Power company at West Pittsburg.

The couple will take up residence at 812 Butler avenue upon arriving home from a brief trip.

Friendly 500 Club Mrs. Myra Park proved a charming hostess on Friday evening, when members of the Friendly 500 club, assembled in her residence on Neshannock avenue.

Mrs. Ed. Carr and Mrs. Stella Walker received high score prizes in cards.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess in the dining room, assisted by Doris Park. The special guest was Dorothy Park.

On April 28, Mrs. Joseph Baldauf, will open her home on Butler avenue to the club members.

G. G. G. Club G. G. G. club members enjoyed the hospitality extended them at the home of Frances Wagner, Boston avenue, on Friday evening.

Tables of 500 were in progress, high score prizes going to Mrs. Ed Donley and Ethel Wagner.

At an appointed hour the hostess served lunch, assisted by Ethel Wagner, Mrs. Merritt Reynolds and Helen Jenkins were special guests of the evening.

On April 28, Mrs. Bernard Flynn of Oakwood avenue will entertain the group.

OUTSIDER SEES INSIDE EUROPE

Helen Hiett

Sighting America again as recently as March 15, after a several weeks' tour of Europe, Helen Hiett, lecturer and student of international affairs who will address the Women's club Monday afternoon, April 17, writes that this country looks better to her each time she returns.

Her sailing date was delayed a day unexpectedly while 27 million dollars in gold was loaded to be rushed to America. She arrived on the Ile de France.

First hand information about the on-going changing of conditions in Europe will be the basis of Miss Hiett's talk on Monday, and it is certain to be of great interest.

The meeting will take place in Highland U. P. church, at the usual hour of 2:30. Hostesses will be Mrs. Roy F. Conway and Mrs. O. E. Flora.

L. D. K. SOCIETY HAS INSTALLATION MEET Installation of officers took place on Friday evening with Mrs. Chester T. R. Yeates in charge, when the L. D. K. Missionary society of the Third U. P. church met in the home of Helen Book on Marshall avenue with Betty Craig as co-hostess.

The officers are: president, Mrs. Ruth Gibson; vice-president, Mrs. Catherine McCowan; secretary, Betty Craig; treasurer, Mrs. Josephine Thompson; thank offering secretary, Sally Lou Lawton; temperance secretary, Christine Bates.

Mrs. Chester T. R. Yeates gave an interesting mission study, well received by all present.

Following, a social period was enjoyed and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Betty Craig.

Miss Sally Lou Lawton will be hostess to the group at her home on Adams street in May.

Faithful Shiners Meet Faithful Shiners Class members of the First Baptist church, taught by Mrs. Edna Zeigler, met in regular session Thursday evening, at the home of Lois Usselson on Neshannock avenue, with Ruth Davis, as co-hostess.

The usual routine was observed, and plans were discussed for the Mother's Day banquet. Lunch was served at the close by the hostesses.

The next meeting in May will be in the home of Marjorie Patterson on East Grant street.

To Form Organization Mrs. George Roof of East Washington street, this city, is the house guest of Mrs. Jennings Beck of Sharon, Pa., for a few days.

Today, however, both women are in Meadville for the purpose of completing arrangements for a new Theta Rho order in that locality.

Brisco Club Mrs. Mary Pazzone will entertain members of the Brisco club at her home on Canyon street Sunday evening.

Earnest Workers Class The Earnest Workers class of Bethany Lutheran church enjoyed Friday evening with Mrs. Clyde Turner of Huron avenue and her co-hostess, Mrs. George Miles.

BIRTH RATE GOING DOWN

An interesting analysis of this country's declining birth rate has been made by Dr. Frederick Osborn, of the American Museum of Natural History. In a memorial lecture to the Academy of Medicine, in New York, he announced that the birth rate is now insufficient to replace the country's present population. The change from gain to loss has come suddenly and for the first time the United States faces a decline in its population.

Mainly the cities are to blame. The replacement rate is only 75 per cent in cities of more than 100,000. Villages raise about four children for every three members of the community. Farms have the highest birth rate, representing 169 per cent of their population.

There are obvious reasons why the city family is a small family. The average for the nation is 2.6 children for each married woman, but a family with children is likely to move out of the city.

More disturbing are the statistics which show that professional, business and clerical workers' families fall far short of replacing their parents. Skilled and semi-skilled labor holds its own. Unskilled and agricultural laborers have the largest families. It is an urgent problem, says Dr. Osborn, to "increase births among competent parents who are able to give their children a decent physical, moral and mental environment." But saying so will not solve the problem.

PRODUCTION AND JOBS

Department of Commerce at Washington announces that total factory production of the United States is now second only to 1937 for the period of the depression. In some fields production is as high or higher than in 1929.

Once activity on that scale would have meant an end of dull times and a beginning of good times. Once the fact that more production called for more men was inescapable. Now it appears that production can eb and flow within a total employed list that remains static.

What the nation is going to do about that isn't clear. It is among the most perplexing national problems—perhaps the one real problem. And it must be solved.

PAN-AMERICAN HIGHWAY SUGGESTION

No kind of help is as good as mutual help. No deal is as good as one from which both parties profit.

Such an opportunity lies before the United States. For many years, the Pan-American Highway has been emerging from a dream into a slowly-materializing reality. Those of the countries to the south that could afford it have been slogging away at the job, and Mexico has made magnificent progress.

Any help, technical or financial, that could be extended to countries farther south in driving the road through to the Panama Canal would be typical of the kind of help that helps both parties. The countries aided would benefit by public works expenditures and future tourist trade and general opening up of their territories. The United States would benefit in good will, in sales of machinery, and in getting access to the canal by land from the north.

Such a proposal is well worth study. As good roads help any country or neighborhood which gets them, so the completion of the Pan-American Highway would benefit every country it touches, including our own.

PROS AND CONS OF THE BARTER PLAN

The administration's plan to swap a portion of our surplus cotton and wheat for rubber and tin from Britain, Belgium and the Netherlands has its good points as a strictly emergency measure. On our side the emergency consists in costly and unwanted over-supplies of farm products. Every plan hitherto suggested for getting rid of these surpluses has been open to serious objections.

For us, tin and rubber come under the head of "strategic materials" for military defense. Great Britain's own emergency requires building up reserves of wheat and cotton. Obviously it is wise for the European democracies to lay in supplies while means of transportation are assured.

So far, so good. But it is apparent that this scheme would play hob with Secretary Hull's reciprocal trade agreements. It does not involve dumping or selling our farm products away below world prices in foreign markets, but barter of this kind represents a mixture of political and commercial transactions that should not become a permanent fixture. As an emergency device it may prove worthwhile, although disposal of two million bales will make only a small dent in our mountain of surplus cotton.

RADIO BY TELEPHONE IN WAR

Some time ago, in this country, a radio was perfected for delivering radio programs to the home over telephone wires. It has not yet been put in operation, partly because "wireless" radio supplies entertainment for almost every taste without any charge to the "consumer" except the cost of his radio receiver.

In England the radio listener pays for his pleasure and enlightenment. It would be easier in England, therefore, to distribute programs by telephone wires to subscribers. For more important reasons, however, the British may soon set up a broadcasting service over telephone wires, according to an announcement of the Postmaster General, who controls the British telephone system.

In event of war involving England, or even threatening England, ordinary radio programs might be made almost impossible by deliberate interference or "jamming" from foreign broadcasting stations. Governmental messages to the people, news bulletins or propaganda would be drowned out by interference on the same wave length. The Englishman's radio, moreover, would be wide open to messages and arguments from foreign stations, perhaps a thousand miles away.

There could be no such interference with wired radio. As a minor measure of preparation for war, therefore, England will soon be "wired for sound" and the Englishman will turn to his telephone for entertainment, weather reports and the latest word from his government.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN CHILDREN QUARREL

Many parents write about children in the family who fight and quarrel. What do children have to say about such things?

Within a year I have conducted a discussion (forum) with nearly a hundred groups of fourth, fifth and sixth grade children on the question of getting along with their brothers and sisters, and I find that children take these matters very seriously and are deeply interested.

One group in Santa Ana, California, for example, after a period of 40 minutes, begged me to run over the recess period and to continue for 30 minutes longer. I wish you could have heard all the problems they brought up. Some clearly are parents' problems, difficult to discuss safely with the children, especially when a child asks what he should do when one parent tells him to do something and the other immediately tells him not to do it. I trust that I was cautious.

Once I said to such a group of children:

"I suppose you sometimes wish you had no brothers or sisters." A shout of "Yes" went up. A boy raised his hand and said, "I'm lucky. I have no brother or sister."

It occurred to me that I might do more good if I asked these children to tell good things about their brothers and sisters. Though the interest and response were not so strong, the following are among their contributions, each by a different child:

Sister shares candy with brother. Brother shares skates with sister. Sister gives brother paper. When boy is sick a small brother brings in coal, wood and feeds him.

Older brother shares bicycle. Brother picks that up for sister and puts it away.

Brother helps sister with dishes. Two sisters do dishes for mother and father while they go to a show.

Brother helps younger brother wash photograph pictures. Sister cleans house for older sister in hospital.

When mother washes the boy helps carry the clothes out. Grandson and cousin go downtown to shop for aged grandmother. Sister shares candy when going to store.

Dad and mother want to go to show and two sisters volunteer to go.

Older sister does dishes for younger brother when he goes coasting.

Older brother and younger exchange doing dishes when some event comes up.

Father sleeps days, so older sister reads to younger child to keep him still.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

BEARDLESS MEN

The youthful police chief of Indianapolis, Indiana, has banned all mustaches from the Department.

Mustaches, he believes, are incompatible with the dignity and respect due the law.

Today this is a new deal tradition! Time was, not so long ago, when no father felt capable of keeping authority in the home without the impressive dignity of a mustache and more often than not, a luxuriant foliage flanking the jaws. Nor did our statesmen, authors and philosophers, of an earlier generation, ever reach the pinnacle of their careers, and win the respect of their admirers, till they could look out upon the world from behind a massive facade of whiskers.

Mustaches, of either the brush or handle-bar variety, and beards, either trimmed neatly at the chin-line or left free to roam over the vest and cheeks, gave to a man gentility, an aura of character and strength, according to the lights of an earlier day.

Today they have become a whim. And worse yet—according to the Indianapolis police chief, not even entitled to respect! Before drawing any further conclusions, we'd like to see if the chief can sprout a beard!

Nevertheless, the "Longbeards" and the "Square Beards" have made history and ruled the earth.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:39. Sun rises tomorrow 5:20.

Several congressmen in Washington are complaining of their mail being stolen and some of it was found in a wash room. Maybe a good place for some of it.

The value of almost everything you own can be fairly accurately arrived at by adding what you think it's worth to what you could soak it for, and dividing it by two.

There are lots of people who mean all right, but that's all.

Has it been said of any of us, as a man once remarked about another: "He plays a fair game of golf—if you watch him."

Let us not try to analyze the vote of congress which requires officeholders to pay income taxes. When you take a miracle apart you spoil it.

Two negroes who had not seen each other in five years discovered that each had been married during this time.

"What kinda woman did you all get, Mose?" asked Rastus.

"She's an angel, Rastus, dat's what she is."

"Boy, yo sho is lucky. Mine's still livin'."

When a man runs for a public office he should run on a platform for serving the people and not just because he needs the salary. Lots of people hold public office at a good salary who could not even have a job in private enterprises.

GET GOING

"Darling, I want to kiss your hand and kiss it and kiss it!"

"Sir, that's asking too much!"

"So what?"

"Stop asking and kiss it!"

Statistics carefully compiled show the southern Negro consumes more watermelon than people in other areas. We are only slightly amazed.

Income tax rules seem unfair. As a machine wears out, you can deduct the amount of depreciation; but nobody seems to realize that you wear out, too.

An East Side man says he likes to lend his lawn roller to his neighbors, but he likes to have it at home when he needs it himself.

When Europe sends it's gold to this country by the shipload it is a good sign they have more faith in us than they have in their own country. When you let other people take care of your money it means something.

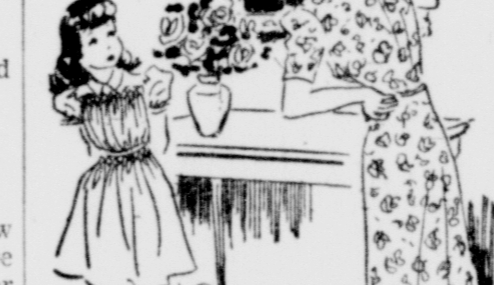

Americanism: All joining the well-advised fight against infantile paralysis; ignoring appendicitis, that kills 25,000 to 30,000 every year.

It is easy to handle the haughty who are determined not to be bossed. If you wish them to do one thing, suggest doing the opposite.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

"I'll tell Daddy when he comes home!"

How many children are by this threat taught to fear their fathers? Its utterance is a cardinal sin that I find in the mother who shirks corrective responsibility. At the very cradle side she begins to implant in her child the suggestion that her lord and master possesses some punitive power more cruel and terrible than any she can exert. Many a meek and dying father lacking the spunk to even protest against the most flagrant crime that could be committed by his offspring thus becomes pictured in their imagination as the possessor of some potent wrath to be some day unleashed to revenge a youthful peccadillo.

Answer—Either a matching tan or a brown hat, tan or brown gloves, a brown purse, brown shoes, either a white blouse or any of the figure silks so popular this season.

What's What At A Glance

Says Isolation Would Backfire
Secretary Hull Is Against Idea
Asserts All Countries Must Prosper

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 15.—It's all very well to argue, as such statesmen as William E. Borah, Hiram W. Johnson, Gerald P. Nye and Bennett Champ Clark do, that Europe's (and Asia's) recent gyrations are none of our American business. The fact remains that our business is just what they do effect. Since his return to Washington from his Warm Springs vacation, President Roosevelt has conferred lengthily with his most trusted advisers, and they agree that the United States should be well on its way toward a general commercial upward movement if it weren't for the rest of world's uncertainties. They make out a pretty strong case, too. Administrativists never have contended that huge governmental spending is anything but a shot in the arm. To stimulate private capital's activities, and what it was beginning to do and would have finished doing if Hitler, Mussolini's and Japan's performances had not counteracted the natural trend here at home.

Suppose another big war starts. Suppose also that we keep out of it. We'll get a lot of the backwash, nevertheless. A prospective lunatic asylum next door is a bad neighbor even though we may not enlist among the bugs. Consequently our sane investors are hesitant to take risks, however reasonable. Of course that puts the extinguisher upon any hum of industry.

An Isolationist Policy

It's suggested that we might build a wall around ourselves—prosper internally and let other nations go hang.

I once asked Senator M. M. Logan how he thought this would work. The Kentucky colon practically is a free trader. Yet, he said, "It wouldn't be ideal, or desirable. Still, it would give us a chance to regulate our own economy, which we can't do with open doors. It might be a last resort."

Then I asked Secretary of State Cordell Hull (then a senator).

"Considering" I said, "how nearly self-sufficient we are, couldn't we get along pretty comfortably, independent of the rest of the earth?"

"I'd say," replied the Tennesseean, "that we could get along very comfortably."

Well, that's the difference between statesmen.

Old time Republican protection is one thing. Bar everything from competition with our infant industries. That's extinct, for we haven't any infant industries any more.

They're adult and well able to take care of themselves, here and abroad.

Isolation, as proposed by Senator Logan, is another proposition.

Secretary Hull admits that no country can be prosperous unless all are. That's the basis of his reciprocal trade treaties. He's made progress with his agreements between the United States and civilized nations, but the Nazis and Fascists are turning him down.

Hull An Economist

Secretary Hull, as a representative and a senator, essentially was an economist.

I thought he was a queer selection for appointment to the secretaryship of state. It seemed to me that the secretaryship of the treasury would have been more appropriate for him.

But, since his incumbency in the state secretaryship, he has said to me, "I think that all international considerations revert back to economic considerations."

So economic and military considerations aren't entirely independent of each other.

Just Folks

INTOXICATION

A man gets drunk on whiskey and good folks shake their heads. And suffer shame in silence to see the harm he spreads.

But when no plea will change him or stop his dreadful din The troops of law and order are called to take him in.

The drunkard's scorn of others full well all people know. In hope good sense will save him at first they let it go.

But when to keep his pledges they see him always fail To save the rights of others they lock him up in jail.

Likewise the headstrong tyrant grown drunk on man-made power May crush and maim and throttle And strut his pompous hour.

And thinking sense will find him and peace be spared to men The nations guarding freedom will bow to him till then.

But soon the drunken tyrant, grown arrogant with might, Makes just one shout too noisy 'gainst what the world thinks right.

Breast one more solemn promise, takes one more helpless town And promptly its grim forces will liberally cut him down. (Protected by The George Matthew Adams Service)

THE "ARABIAN NIGHTS"

The "Arabian Nights" were a collection of stories which were probably written by different people over a period of several centuries. They were first translated into English about 1840 by Edward William Lane. There have been several translations from the French; but the only English translation direct from the original was that of Sir Richard Burton.

Y.P.C.U. Officers

Arrange Convention

Miss Bertha Burrows Entertained Officers At April Executive Session

ELLWOOD CITY, April 15.—Arrangements for the annual spring convention to be held at the First U. P. church, New Castle, on Saturday, June 10, were made at the April executive meeting of the Y. P. C. U. of Beaver Valley Presbytery held last night at the home of Miss Bertha Burrows, of Fountain avenue, this city.

G. A. P. Bowman, former S. Y. P. W., will be the afternoon speaker, and Dr. Bruce Wilson, of Pittsburgh, will be the speakers with "Building Our Golden Task" being chosen as the theme. It was decided to give awards at the convention for the presbytery contest, attendance at the convention and publicity.

Members were pleased to learn that the McClanahan fund amounted to $1541 for the past year, which is a decided increase.

From August 31 to September 3 were selected the dates for the annual institute activities at Camp Ar-Co-Ho near Evans City.

Members will attend a recreational conference to be held on May 5 and 6 at the downtown Y. M. C. A., in Pittsburgh, and the 50th anniversary dinner of the Y. P. C. U. at large to be held on April 29 in Pittsburgh.

Sixty-four registrations were reported for the first institute held on Thursday night at Beaver Falls with Ellwood City having the largest delegation in attendance.

Clyde Byers led the opening worship service and Rev. C. T. Yeates, of New Castle, was welcomed as the new Presbytery superintendent of Young People's work. Rev. Yeates was elected at the Presbytery meeting on Tuesday.

After the hostess served delicious refreshments, adjournment was taken to meet again on Friday, May 12, at the home of Miss Anna Grace McCoy, of Mt. Pleasant, with Miss Thelma Merriles at the leader.

Urges Community

To Make Use Of State Bureau

ELLWOOD CITY, April 15.—The Chamber of Commerce is urging citizens of this community to take advantage of the state employment bureau that is located on the second floor of the municipal building.

Hundreds of men and women from Ellwood City and vicinity have registered for any kind of work or odd jobs that might be available at anytime.

With the spring season coming on the chamber wishes to encourage our citizens to take advantage of the help that is available daily among our unemployed men and women.

The state office is open from 8:30 to 5 o'clock every day except Saturday.

North Sewickley

Grangers Gather

ELLWOOD CITY, April 15.—Fifty members of the North Sewickley township Grange assembled Friday evening in their hall, Ellwood-New Brighton road, with guests attending from the Economy and Chippewa Granges.

Walker Shannon, county Pomona master, was a guest and gave a fine talk, after which arrangements were completed for the organization of a juvenile Grange, with Mrs. Gertrude Bennett as matron.

A merry and diverting musical program featured the literary hour, directed by Miss Vesta Householder, after which the surprise committee served delicious refreshments.

Next week the Grangers will be guests at Economy in a round-robin series of exchange meetings.

Friday evening, April 28, marks the date of the next meeting.

Wayne 4-H Club

Again Organized

ELLWOOD CITY, April 15.—For the purpose of organizing a Boys 4-H club in Wayne township, a meeting of interested boys and leaders was held last evening at the Wayne township school with the county agent and William Walton, in charge.

Officers chosen for the new year were: President, Carl Walton; vice president, Ray Weingartner, Walter Thalgott; and reporter, Junior McDougall.

It was agreed to have a tomato and sweet corn club this year. Members of the new club are: Russell Houk, Ray Weingartner, Jack Anderson, Carl Walton, Walter and Carl Thalgott, Dean Meehan, Marvin and Junior McDougall. Three Scouts

Given Coveted Eagle Awards

Nobert Rossman, Donald Howell And Paul Gamble Are Highly Honored

ELLWOOD CITY, April 15.—Three Boy Scouts, Nobert Rossman, J. Donald Howell and Paul E. Gamble, who have reached the top in scouting, were presented with the coveted eagle award on Friday evening at a special and most impressive court of honor held in the First Presbyterian church.

There was a large attendance of parents and friends of the honored boys, as well as a large representation of all the Scout troops in the city.

Eagle Scouts Harold Aggas, Louie Parks, Jr., John Hancher, William McKim, Charles Rabberman, Robert Shields and George Zickel formed a guard of honor. Robert Stevenson was the court musician and Donald Magee the court trumpeter. Rev. A. M. Stevenson, chairman of the court, presided and made the presentation address.

A social hour followed, under the direction of Walter Gamble and other Scout leaders, with appetizing refreshments being served as the climaxing feature.

Schaffner Class

At Nicklas Home

ELLWOOD CITY, April 15.—Members of the Emma Schaffner class of the Evangelical Reformed church were entertained in a pleasant manner on Friday evening at a meeting of the L. R. L. club scheduled for Monday night at the home of Mrs. George Nicklas, of the Ellwood-New Castle road, O. A. Clara Holiday, of Akron, O., a former member was a special guest.

Mrs. Harvey Dambach led the devotions after which games and contests were enjoyed with the awards going to Mrs. Edward Amalongo and Mrs. Harry Shirey and the monthly prize to Mrs. Emil Forsythe.

Before members departed to meet again on Friday, May 12 at the home of Mrs. P. D. Powell, of Line avenue, the hostess served a refreshing lunch.

Orange Members

Plan Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, April 15.—The 26th anniversary of the Loyal Ladies' Orange lodge will be fittingly celebrated with a banquet and program on Friday evening, May 12, according to plans made at the regular meeting of the lodge last evening in the First National Bank building.

Mrs. Irene Kirker, entertainment chairman, will be in charge of the arrangements. Applications for membership were received during the meeting, attended by 40 members.

After entertainment the following committee: Mesdames Hazel Dungherty, Edna Bright, Elizabeth Cunningham, Sarah Treese, Helen Hardie Phame McMurdo, Esther Bloom and Josephine Alfonso, served a delicious lunch.

RENTS SELF OUT

AS ALARM CLOCK

(International News Service)
CHICAGO—You have to hand it to Miss Paula Zurek for figuring out an original way to earn a living—she rents herself out as a human alarm clock.

Miss Zurek, a former telephone operator, does not sleep well at night. So she placed advertisements in the business personal columns of newspapers, advising that she was available for waking any person by telephone. Miss Zurek said:

"I've already got quite a list of customers. If business keeps up the way it has started, I'll need a switchboard

Five Prisoners Are Sentenced

Still Operator Is Handed Stiffest Sentence In Court Today

NUMBERS CASE BEFORE COURT

Judge Thomas W. Dickey held sentence court alone today. Judge W. Walter Braham still being confined to his home by grip. Five prisoners were sentenced by Judge Dickey, all of them being up on pleas of guilty or nolle contendere.

Isaiah McCants, who was caught operating a large still in Neshaunock township some weeks ago, drew first prize in the length of sentence imposed. He was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to one to two years in the Allegheny county workhouse, but he can get out practically whenever he wants to—if he will tell the court who operated the still.

"Against It!" "We are firmly against the illegal manufacture of liquor," said Judge Dickey. "The law has provided a way for its manufacture and we cannot tolerate illegal manufacture." Asked who he worked for, McCants said it was some fellow named "Tony Bell." When he gets out of the workhouse the federal government will take him over, a detainee being lodged against him in the office of Sheriff M. M. Ingham.

Charles Rucker was up on a plea to operating a numbers racket. In his behalf, Attorney Charles Ross told the court that Rucker had a gastric ulcer which required treatment.

"Who were you working for," asked Judge Dickey.

"I don't know, it was some guy from Pittsburgh," said Rucker.

"We would sooner not sentence you," said the judge, "but perhaps a little time in the county jail will improve your memory." You are sentenced to pay the costs of the case and spend three months in the county jail. At the end of 30 days we will entertain a petition for parole if $300 is paid in for the use of the county.

Walter Chambers, driving during a period of revocation of license, 30 days in the county jail.

Charles Hardesty, driving while intoxicated, $100 and costs and 30 days in the county jail. Out in ten days if the fine and costs are paid.

Charles E. Greene, adultery, fined $1 and costs and three months in the county jail.

MOTHERS CAN HELP TO CUT SPREAD OF CHICKENPOX

Chickenpox is one of the diseases of childhood which frequently appear during the baby's first year of life. You often hear people associate this disease with smallpox, but actually there is no relation between them, and the similarity ends with the names.

When a youngster takes chickenpox he goes on for two or three weeks before he begins to complain about not feeling well. There isn't any obvious reason for this indisposition, for the disease comes without a head-cold or other symptom. A few days after complaining about not feeling well, the child will develop a rash. At first there are only a few pink spots on the chest and abdomen. Later these spots lose their pink color, and in the center of each appears a tiny drop of fluid.

At this stage of the disease the child looks as though there were drops of water standing out on his forehead. When these drops of water rupture in a day or so, they leave reddened areas of skin that persist for approximately 10 days afterward. During this period the child is infectious and should be kept away from others.

Before the rash the child may have a degree or so of temperature, but with the advent of the rash fever disappears. First noticed on the chest and abdomen, front and back, the rash sometimes spreads down to the thighs, but rarely are the hands or feet involved. In most cases this rash is confined to a few spots; sometimes there are only three or four in the whole course of the disease. Occasionally we see a case where there are a lot of spots which run together and involve the whole skin.

Fortunately, there is very little danger involved in an attack of this disease, although occasionally a baby will be quite ill. If an adult takes it, he will be surprisingly uncomfortable for a few days.

There are a few complications which may occur, but we rarely see them. Kidney disease is the most serious and most common of these. The worst feature of chickenpox is the length of time it endures. In most cases it is 10 days before the rash disappears. In a few cases, however, there are successive groups of spots; as one group fades, another appears. These cases last a long time and a real trial both to mother and to child. I have known large families to be tied up in quarantine for months as first one child and then another took it.

It isn't nearly as important to stamp out chickenpox as it is to do away with other children's diseases. However, if you have run into several bad cases of it in your own family, you will agree with me that it would be a good idea if we could control it.

There is, so far, little we can do in the way of specific treatment. We have no vaccine which will stop it from occurring. The disease will be at least partly controlled when each mother realizes how infectious it is and takes care that the disease isn't spread to other children in the neighborhood.

WYNONA AUXILIARY MEETING
The Wynona Auxiliary members gathered at the home of Mrs. Ivan Carlson, of Fairview Drive, on Thursday evening and held their regular monthly meeting when Miss Edna O'Neil in charge of the devotionals conducted a very interesting program on "The American Indian." Mrs. R. R. Throop as patroness of the Auxiliary conducted the installation of the new officers being, president, Mrs. Allene Sheets; vice president, Mrs. Dorothy Nord; secretary, Mrs. Florence Gwin; treasurer, Miss Hilda Lago; correspondent secretary, Miss Mary Nord. The entertainment committee, Vivian Cunningham and Dorothy Nord had a number of games which were much enjoyed. Later the hostess and her aides, Mrs. P. W. Griffin and Miss Margaret Carlson served very tempting refreshments. The next regular meeting will be held on May 11 with Allene Sheets, Anna Hedegore and Dorothy Nord as the hostesses.

ROD AND GUN CLUB

The Rod and Gun Club of Bessemer will hold their regular monthly meeting in the portable school building on Monday evening at 8. There will be five reels of pictures, one in colors presented that will interest the club.

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the congregation of the Bessemer Presbyterian church was held in the main auditorium on Tuesday evening. The newly elected elders are: G. E. Nord and P. B. Beale. The following officers were elected: trustees, C. H. Lago, P. W. Griffin; auditors, Donald King and Kenneth Griffin; chorister, Joseph H. Martin; organist, Miss Eleanor Throop; assistant organist, Miss Betty Nord.

Flower committee, Mrs. O. W. Johnson, Mrs. Throop and Mrs. M. Ruehle; ushers, Glenn Nelson, Richard DeArment, F. Beale, K. E. Griffin, P. J. O'Neil and Ralph Engle.

Rev. W. J. Engle tendered his resignation.

STITCH AND CHAT CLUB

The Stitch and Chat Club met at the home of Miss Virginia Pricano, part of the evening was spent in sewing. A period was spent in social games and later refreshments were served by the hostess.

The token of the evening was awarded to Miss Justine Ruzine.

The club will meet with Miss Sara Porter, of Walnut street.

GIRL SCOUT MEETING

The Bessemer Girl Scouts of Troop 2 gathered at the grade school building on Wednesday evening, April 12 and held their regular meeting when a relay race was held. Hope Chadlock's team winning. Patrol corners were then in order. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing dodge ball. New Scouts were Dolly Benson, Anna Mae Kurland, Shirley Kelly, Phyllis Anderson, Mary Barotone, Shirley Runk, Doris Grist and Evelyn Tens.

Westfield Grange Program Will Be Of Great Interest

A debate on "The Farm Woman Should Take Care of the Garden" will be one of the interesting features of the Monday night program of Westfield Grange. George Raney and Ralph White will argue in the affirmative, while Mrs. Francis Martin and Mrs. S. B. Fullerton will speak in the negative in behalf of "the distaff side."

Mrs. John Brewster will speak on "Indoor Gardening." J. W. Fullerton will speak on "April Outdoor Gardening." A discussion on landscaping will be directed by W. I. Clark.

City Controller S. L. Lockley has refused to honor a councilman's ordinance providing that wages, council deems due, be paid John Street, a draftsman employed for several months last year and a member of the sewer bureau. It is likely the controversy may wind up in Lawrence county court.

Last year Street was employed for a certain period of the winter to make plans for street paving projects. However, he was kept on the payroll longer than was first provided for and when the payroll reached Councilman W. H. Dunlap, head of the department of streets, he refused to sign the payroll with Street's name on it.

When the council took the sewer commission and sewer bureau out of Dunlap's jurisdiction it directed that body from the streets department. An ordinance provided only eight laborers were to be employed. Dunlap assigned eight street workers to the sewer bureau.

It so happened, he reported later that, one of the men who had been a sewer bureau laborer had been ill but returned to work in the sewer bureau, making the number of laborers, nine. When the payroll reached Dunlap, he refused to sign it because the measure called for only eight laborers.

Since then the ordinance has been changed. Council enacted an ordinance provided that both Street and the sewer bureau laborer be paid. However, Lockley has reported to council, it was understood today, that he cannot coincide with their opinions to pay the men. However, he is willing to let the problems be settled in court.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath, Councilman Joseph D. Alexander and City Engineer Glenn R. Throop will attend a conference of Third class cities league officials Monday night in Harrisburg. Proposed regulations for municipalities of the Third Class will be discussed and on Tuesday the delegates will meet with a legislative committee in charge of Third class cities proposed legislation.

Crowd Sees Play At Union High

Members Of Faculty Present
Comedy, "Nothing But The Truth," Friday

Acting teachers proved to be quite a drawing card, and the auditorium of the Union township high school was packed Friday night, for the presentation of, "Nothing But The Truth," by the faculty of the township school system.

The production was a three act comedy, that ran on Broadway for quite sometime. This is the first time that the teachers have tried their hand at acting at the school, and they did a fine job of it, according to the opinion of the spectators.

Those in the cast were: Margaret Beck, Fern Cloak, LeRoy Rowley, Clayton Hoffmeister, Ruth Horton, Dorothy McGraw, Thomas Salsbury, Don McGraw, John Turek, Catherine McCreary and Clara Rech.

Louis Finishes Training Today For Roper Bout

Colored Champion Will Risk Title Monday In Los Angeles Ring

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, April 15.—Joe Louis wound up his training today for his championship bout at Whiskey Field Monday with Jack Roper, the veteran California heavyweight. For the first time since he started sparring several days ago, Joe looked very much like his usual self yesterday as he slashed away in semi-furious style. The champion knocked around three partners, and while he failed to put any of them on the floor, he demonstrated to his followers and to a large group of sports writers and fight experts that he was in top shape for the battle.

Roper In Shape
Joe seemed to want to keep his partners off the floor, preferring to chase them around. He smashed away so hard at Dynamite Jackson that Jackson started looking for a gate in the ring.

From Ojai came reports that Roper was in fine fettle, a bit irritable and impatient, but raring to go. He also waded into his sparring partners as though it was the real thing. Meanwhile co-promoter Tom Gallery was assuring co-promoter Mike Jacobs that he didn't have to worry about the weather Monday night. Gallery estimated that receipts would range from $100,000 to $150,000 and that the crowd would be between 30,000 and 40,000. Biggest gate so far in Southern California was the Ace Hudkins-Mickey Walker fight in 1929 when 22,000 fans paid $150,265. Louis plans to box again today, his final workout, but he will take it more or less easy.

MORE COMMITTEE MEMBERS NAMED

President Fulton Magill of the New Castle church golf league today appointed Jack Waddington and Dr. W. W. Horner on the Field club committee and Paul Hunt and Russ Magill on the Castle Hills committee.

It will be the work of these men to interview the owners of the two courses mentioned and arrange for the league details.

MEET IN FEATHER TITLE BOUT

Opening of the major league baseball season, April 17, takes a major share of the sports spotlight but not all, for there are two title fights scheduled for that date. In one, Joe Louis, heavy king, faces Jack Roper in Los Angeles. In the other, featherweight Joe Archibald of Providence, R. I., puts his crown on the block for Leo Rodak of Chicago at Providence.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Local Sport Briefs—Local boxing men are singing the praise of tiny Babe Retard, Ellwood City's 112-pound windmill. The diminutive amateur is like a wildcat once he crawls between the ropes. His triumph over Mickey O'Day a couple of nights ago was an impressive one.

With the American Association season underway, Fred Shaffer, local twirler, will make his debut any time now. Under the watchful eyes of Donnie Bush, new pilot of the Louisville Colonels, Shaffer is expected to be a greatly improved pitcher. Bill Klee, coach of New Castle high's track team, is wondering when the weatherman is going to let up. Local cinderpaths have been limited to a very few workouts. Klee fears the season will be over before his proteges get a crack at some of Cunningham's records.

Baseball Pot-Shots—Gordon Coble, Cleveland Plain Dealer baseball writer, brings to light the fact that Indian players see the need of a batting practice pitcher. Such a man is valuable to a club. We were surprised to learn that the Indians are not equipped with someone who can peg 'em across the heart of the plate so that Trosky, Heath and company get the feel of the war club, smooth out their swing and instill confidence before the start of a tilt. Who said Gehrig is through? Anyone who can plaster out a pair of round-trippers and two singles must have something left. That benefit game for Monty Stratton will net the injured twirler approximately $25,000.

Diamond Dust—Al Simmons, who has been around the big show for 16 years, owns a lifetime batting average of .334. Joe McCarthy of the Yanks says Charley Keller, the prize rookie from Newark, will play only in left field. Spring training correspondents claim Hank Greenberg, who ended up the '38 season by knocking on the door leading to Ruth's home run record, is perfecting a new swing which will give him more singles, doubles and triples and less homers. Slovaks Admitted To City League

Managers At Meeting Friday Night Make Baseball League 10-Team Circuit

The City baseball league will be a ten-team circuit this summer, it was definitely decided last night when the managers voted in the Slovak Club as the tenth team at a meeting held at the St. Joseph Parish Hall. The following teams will comprise the league—Slovak Club, Columbus Club, K. Pulaskis, Lawrence Indies, Ryantown, West Side Tigers, Union Civics, St. Josephs Ecclesian Club, West Pittsburgh, and Elder A. C. The league will open on Sunday May 14 with the playing of five games. All franchise money is now in the hands of Michael Babovsky secretary and treasurer of the league. The adoption of the schedule is the only thing left to do before the season swings open.

Moose Capture Ten-Pin Crown

Defeats Eagles In Play-Off For City League Championship

Loyal Order of Moose, No. 51, last night on the McCoy alleys, captured the 1939 Tenpin championship of the city when they defeated the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie 455, in matches 2838 to 2748. The Eagles had won the first half and the Moose the second half. Last night's bowling was the play-off for the title. The league will banquet next Wednesday in the Moose banquet hall.

Last night's summary:

Elder A. C. Makes Plans For Season

At the old Country Club grounds in the Croton district, the Elder Athletic club is making preparations for the coming baseball season, and has commenced erecting bleachers, scoreboards and backstop. Paul Layton of South Ray street is manager. Monday evening at 7:30 there will be a meeting of the board of directors of the Elder A. C. in the old Country Club building.

WEST SIDE TIGERS TO MEET
The West Side Tigers baseball team will have a meeting on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Walt Hanon's house. All members of the Tigers who expect to play with the West Side team this year are asked to report for the meeting. The meeting was called by Business Manager Howard Rote. The Tigers will have a franchise in the city league this year.

New Castle Rifle Club Wins Match

The New Castle Rifle club went to Warren, O., last night and won a Penn-Ohio league rifle match by the close margin of 943 to 938. High man for the match was J. Pape of Warren, with a 192 string. The results: New Castle—Milnes 191, Thomas 190, Kohlmeier 189, Houck 187, Finley 186; total 943. Warren—J. Pape 192, G. Pape 189, Smith 186, Hood 186, Neumesster 185; total 938. The Penn-Ohio league will end next Friday night with the New Castle club going to Youngstown to match shots with the Mahoning Rifle club.

Carl Hubbell, New York Giant pitcher, may be out of action for a month.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Hayden Evans, former coach, now a teacher in West Orange, N. J., will return to that place today, having visited here. During his coaching day Hayden's teams captured three state titles, tied two and in nine years of coaching lost only nine games, which is some record.

Obviously Mike Rubin had no great time to chortle over his one-punch win over Manny Armado, because a chap named Raskowski of Cleveland won a technical kayo over him in Youngstown on Thursday night. According to reports, Raskowski weighed 220, or 45 pounds more than Rubin. Rubin was pushed down in the second and knocked down in the third. The referee stopped the fight which automatically made Raskowski the winner. Frankie Moran was another who lost via a decision, also Emil Canell, Benny Bartle won. The latter three also were outweighed, it was reported here.

Today is the first of many in which fishermen may legally seek the wary trout, which of all finny members is most difficult to catch. One must sneak up on trout. Anyone who crashes his way to the top of an embankment and permits his shadow to fall upon the stream surface hasn't got much chance of landing one, according to persons versed better than us in trout fishing. It is unlikely that every angler will get many or the limit. In fact, the real idea of a sportsman is to fish, yet conserve. If every one who goes fishing in Lawrence county today were to catch a trout, hundreds of trout would be in the skillet tonight or Sunday morning. Approximately 1,000 persons have been licensed here and they will crowd five streams which means that trout will be kept fairly well on the fin.

While here Hayden Evans, West Orange, N. J., combatted the myth that Tony Galento is a braggadocio and a hunk of cheese. "That fellow is not the beer guzzler pictured. He takes a few beers but always is in condition. I have watched him run 10 miles daily on the road while in training. When he talks concerning Joe Louis, he talks for effect. Usually he thinks his eye knowingly to his close friends. There is no questioning the hitting ability of his left, ruggedness, stamina and confidence that he is 'Louis' master," said Evans. Those who believe with Tony expect Galento to try and win in close then rip punches on to the body and head. In a long range fight it is believed Louis would have far the best of the "pecking" and pave the way for the "leveler."

Several fights of interest to local fans were staged last night. In one, Sammy Angott, Washington, who has fought here defeated Aldo Spoldi, who claims to hold the lightweight title of Italy in 10 rounds. Nate Bolden of Chicago, beat Oscar Rankin, Pittsburgh, in a middleweight bout in 12 rounds in Chicago and Gunnar Barlund, Finn, defeated Otis Thomas, of St. Louis. Both are heavyweights.

Geneva college has named John Milanovich, junior from Aliquippa, captain of the 1939-40 basketball team.

Joe Louis and Jack Roper wind up training for heavyweight title bout in Los Angeles on Monday night. A crowd of 40,000, with a $100,000 to $150,000 gate, is predicted.

STRAFACI WINS ANOTHER TITLE

Victorious in the north and south golfing championship at Pinehurst, N. C., Frank Strafacci of Brooklyn, N. Y., left, is congratulated by the runner-up, Bobby Dunkelberger of High Point, N. C. Dunkelberger is the present amateur golf champion of France.

Shenango Bowlers Have Annual Banquet Event

Strikes and spares rolled down the tables of the Castleton Hotel Friday night but the equipment used was not bowling balls. The bowlers of the Shenango Bowling league took over the ball room of the hotel for their annual dinner and from the appearance of the plates after the dinner, there was not a poor score made out of the 65 present. John Lowden, president of the league was the toastmaster of the evening and called upon the following men to speak, Raymond McBride, formerly of New Castle, now of Clairton, Assistant Superintendent Harry Gravenstreeter and Lloyd Rowles, the champion bowler of the season who had an average of 146. Mr. Rowles was presented with a pair of bowling shoes as a token of his prowess. G. E. McBride had charge of the general arrangements for the banquet and George Shockley had charge of the entertainment. The dinner marked the end of the bowling season for the men of the tin mill but next season will find them back into the sport.

Columbus Club Meets Monday

The Columbus Club baseball team will have an important meeting Monday night at the Christopher Columbus Hall in the Seventh Ward Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Manager Mike Orlando.

All members of the team are asked to attend the meeting as matters of importance to the team will be taken up for discussion. Manager Orlando said today that he looks for his ace hurler Joe Forgione to win at least 15 games this year for the Columbus club.

President Will Harridge announces umpires for opening day games in the American League as another baseball season nears.

Crews of Manhattan, Columbia and Rutgers open eastern rowing season with a five-race regatta on the Harlem river today.

Leo Durocher, boss of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs start a verbal feud.

Balla-Anderson Slovak Mainstays

When the Slovak Club of the City Baseball league takes the field in May, they will have a couple of classy hurlers ready to bother the opposing teams, according to Manager Steve "Snag" Russell. The pitchers are James "Shimmy" Balla and Leroy "Toots" Anderson, the latter a South Hills boy.

Balla is one of the best pitchers in the city and has a baffling delivery, mixing them up with a fast and then a curve ball. Anderson is new to the city league but is said to possess blinding speed and good control. In Carik, Lenhart, Balla and Anderson the Slovaks are well fortified in the pitching department.

Trout Fishing Starts Today

Army Of Over 250,000 Fishermen Start Whipping Streams For Tiny Members

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 15.—A veritable army of 250,000 followers of Izaak Walton went out with line and tackle today to snare some 600,000 fish as the trout season officially got under way.

The stocking of 600,000 trout by the fish commissioner was completed yesterday and would seemingly give every fisherman a chance to catch at least one trout—the gods willing. Alex P. Sweigert, editor of the commission's publication, the Pennsylvania Angler, said that brook, rainbow and brown trout released in the streams measured from seven to 18 inches in length.

Sweigert said that streams were slightly above their normal flow, and urged that fishermen use artificial bait on the opening day, but admitted that if it rains, worms might be in order. Anyway, the fisherman can take his choice.

More Women Fishing
Just to give followers of Izaak Walton something to strive for, the all-time record trout catch is 9 pounds, 7 ounces, caught in Lackawanna creek.

Sweigert reported that more women were going in for trout fishing. "They're going into it in a big way," he said. "Perhaps the reason is artificial lures. Nowadays they don't have to worry about putting a wiggle worm on a hook. You know how women are."

The season ends July 31. The daily creel limit is 10 trout, the commission warned, and anglers were reminded not to take trout under the legal limit of six inches and asked where possible to unhook undersized fish without removing them from the water.

The commission also reminded fishermen to respect the rights of landowners and to obtain permission to fish on private land on Sunday.

Epworth Quintet To Dine Tuesday

The postponed banquet for the championship Epworth M. E. church basketball team will be held on Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the church dining hall, it was announced by V. O. Potter today, who is chairman of the event.

The banquet is being sponsored by the Epworth Sunday school in honor of the boys who have won three straight church basketball league championships. Quite a fine program will follow the serving of the meal.

Committee Plans To Attend Ohio Meeting Tuesday

Will Represent Area On Behalf Of Proposed Route 18 Project

According to Jack Brettell, president of the Seventh Ward Civic club, a committee recently named by the club to work on the proposed Route 18 project will attend a meeting of the District Planning Commission on Tuesday, April 18.

Those on this committee include Louis G. Genkinger, Harry Elder, Patrick Scanlon, Bert Coates and Jack Walters.

The meeting, scheduled in the Hotel Ohio, Youngstown, will be to discuss ways and means to better the district. According to Brettell, it is hoped that this committee might be able to interest the commission in this project.

In order to get a report of this committee, a special meeting of the Civic club and interested persons will be held as soon as possible following the meeting in Ohio, Tuesday.

Ministers Meeting Planned For Tuesday

Spring Meeting Of Shenango Presbytery In Mahoningtown Church

Plans have been completed for the spring meeting of the Shenango Presbytery, to be held Tuesday in the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church. This meeting will be for all of the Presbyterian ministers in this district.

The meeting will be an all-day event, beginning at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Reports from all of the churches in the Presbytery will be heard at this meeting, and plans for the coming fiscal year will be made.

LIBERTY STARS

ORGANIZE TEAM

In order to reorganize the Liberty Stars softball team, a meeting was held in the ward. Peter Cardella was selected as manager for the season. Louis Dominick to be his assistant, and Paul Dominick will serve as business manager.

The girls will use the Liberty street field, and they will start practicing just as soon as the weather permits.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

Another set of high tension poles between the Cedar street sub-station and West Pittsburgh are now being worked on to complete the erection job. Wire cable connecting the sub-station with the power plant is also being strung.

Many property owners in the ward are putting the lawns in shape for the coming season. Grass seed is being planted by a number of people, but the main task seems to be rolling the lawns.

Workmen at the sewage disposal plant wall project are making fine progress.

progress. This flood wall is quite a large undertaking. At the present time there is a crew of about 90 working on the project.

City trucks are again adding to the huge ash pile along North Cedar street, near the electric sub-station. During their spare time the trucks get the ashes at the mills and haul them to the stack for future city use.

Early risers in the ward today, reported that there were quite a number of fishermen parked along North Liberty street, before six o'clock, getting ready to go in search of trout, this being the first day of the season.

OPPORTUNITY CIRCLE AT LEICHT RESIDENCE

Gathering in the home of Mrs. William Leicht, East Clayton street, Friday evening, members of the Opportunity Circle of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church held their April meeting.

There were 14 present, and Mrs. Gertrude Marshall was in charge of the devotionals. This was the first meeting to be in charge of the newly elected officers. Mrs. Grant E. Shaffer was in charge of the topic discussion, entitled, "Foreigners in America."

Program for the year was planned by the group. Spring flowers were used in decoration. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses, who included Mrs. Leicht, Mrs. Martha Horcher and Mrs. D. C. Schnebly.

Next meeting will be on Friday, May 5.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. Eleanor French and family have moved to 417 Newell avenue.

Mrs. John Fisher, West Madison avenue, is confined to her home by illness.

Nick Calvanese has returned to his duties in Pittsburgh following a visit at his home on South Lafayette street.

Alderman T. C. Rainey, North Liberty street, is still confined to his home by illness, but is reported to be improving.

More Will Attend Aliquippa Event

On account of added calls for bus accommodations for the trip to Aliquippa, Sunday, to attend the Gynanfa Gannu, the bus committee has decided to charter another bus, it is announced.

The buses will leave at 12:30, from the First Congregational church, East Reynolds street, to afford ample time to arrive in time for the afternoon session.

FUTURE FARMERS AT EAST BROOK ELECT

Perry Pherson is the new president of East Brook chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Others named with him were Robert Wilson, first vice president; David Jameson, second vice president; James Turk, secretary; Arnold McConnell, treasurer; and Edwin Moore, reporter. The executive committee includes Sam Robison, Glenn McConnell and Kenneth Reed.

Pherson and Jameson were delegated to attend the annual F. F. A. roundup in Slippery Rock on April 21.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

"Dodge City," a very fine film of the salty old west of Bill Hickok and Bat Masterson is the newest of such western epics. But the producers, in their efforts to appease the insatiable appetite of the film theatres, are going far ahead for great stories of fact—stories which need little retouching or embroidery.

For example, one of our finest screen actors, Spencer Tracy, in "Boys' Town," and so many other fine films, is at present engaged in making for 20th Century-Fox the story of Henry G. Stanley's heroic adventure into central Africa to find the Scottish missionary-explorer, Dr. David Livingstone, who discovered the Zambesi river and the source of the Nile.

Stanley, after an incredible march through the jungle, came upon the feeble and almost helpless Livingstone on November 10, 1871, at Ujiji Lake Tanganyika, and nursed him back to health. That tale of Stanley's research for the long-lost missionary is one of the great epics of exploration and adventure. From it, indeed, Darryl Zanuck and 20th Century-Fox should make a grand picture.

I wonder, when I read of these modern explorers and thrill hunters, if a single one of them ever gives a thought to the great man who made easy adventures possible; who, single-handed, conquered the terrors of the Dark Continent, opened it to the white race and dreamed of an empire to be founded on right and justice. The great man who got Africa into his blood, who could never get it out, and who came to his end in London, stricken by the ingratitude of kings and the broken faith of parliaments.

Not ten men in the last century dared as much as Henry M. Stanley, or dreamed a dream so magnificent. He was working for James Gordon Bennett, the younger, of the New York Herald, when Bennett sent for him to come to Paris. The reporter found the great man in bed. Said Bennett:

"I want you to go to central Africa and find Dr. Livingstone. Act according to your own plans, but find Livingstone. Draw a thousand pounds and when you have got through that, draw another thousand—when that's gone, draw another thousand. But find Livingstone."

David Livingstone, doctor, missionary and dreamer, had been lost for years somewhere in the heart of the Dark Continent. Many believed him dead, the captive of savages. The public demanded news and Bennett's genius for news sent young Stanley on the wildest, strangest quest that man ever embarked upon—as casually as if he had been dispatching a reporter to cover a fire around the corner in New York's Broadway.

Only 28 and already stirred by the magic and mystery of Africa, Stanley set out. The problem was overwhelming the difficulties enough to daunt the bravest. He must adventure into an utterly strange world. There was only a ghost of a chance that he could find the elderly Dr. Livingstone in the vast stretches of Africa. Month after month, Stanley literally fought his way into central Africa—through a region unmapped and unknown to white men.

Rivers, swollen by rains into swamps, barred his way. He waded them and forged ahead. Impenetrable thickets blocked his path. He cut through and went on. The low-land jungle exhaled a perpetual miasma. Tropical fever struck him down, and never in his life was he to be rid of it. But he staggered on.

Upon the highlands his caravans were attacked by savages. He fought them off. Insects in vast clouds made life an agony by day and by night. He brushed the blood from his face and held to the trail.

And then after eight months of the frightful journey came the electric news that a white man was to be found in the village of Ujiji. Stanley pressed on and came to the fringe of the village. Not within the memory of man had it seen so large a safari. The column marched on into the village escorted by a noisily rejoicing mob of black men beating drums and sounding horns.

And in the market place Stanley found the man he was looking for. Dr. Livingstone, old and ill. And then came the greeting between the old man who had been lost to the world for years, and the man who had overcome ten thousand devils to find him—a laconic greeting which had become one of the classic stories of modern times.

"Dr. Livingstone, I presume?"

"Yes."

"They shook hands."

"I thank God, doctor, that I have been permitted to see you."

"I feel most thankful that I am here to welcome you."

As casually as if they had drifted together in the traffic of the Strand or Piccadilly.

THE CANAL

Editor, New Castle News.
April 12, 1939
Dear Sir:

Once again the proposal to load the poor, patient tax payer with an additional burden that will enable a few to reap additional profits at the expense and loss of the many. Once again the proposal slack water of the Mahoning-Bever canal arises to entice a few and confuse the many as to the possible benefits that may accrue to the communities that may hope to benefit from this waste of the tax payers hard earned money. So it might be well to present a few, just a very few, undeniable facts for you, Mr. Tax payer, to consider before you commit yourself to agree to shoulder an additional tax burden from which you, by no conceivable stretch of the imagination, can hope to profit one penny.

First let me say that we railroad men are just as vitally concerned for the future of New Castle, its welfare and stability, as any other person or institution within its boundaries. Believe it or not but it is true.

While it is true of the early days of railroad history that the railroads were often guilty of questionable ethics. Were they any more so than any others that might be mentioned. But is it not equally true that these immense combinations of capital and labor are what has made America the outstanding leader of all history. Where would America be today had we not been blessed with the vision and leadership of such men as John D. Rockefeller, William C. Clegg and Dan Willard and Henry Thornton and men of like character, who by their energy and vision advanced our frontiers from the Atlantic to the Pacific with bands of steel. Without the service of the railroads, how far would we be? In view of the accomplishments of the railroads in the part they have played in the development of our country, is it fair, is it reasonable, is it plain common sense for the government (and that's you and I) to tax the people to subsidize the railroad's competitors, the waterways, highways and airway means of transportation and expect the railroads to serve us when these other means of transportation fail as they frequently do in time of flood and weather conditions.

Is it reasonable to expect the canal to benefit New Castle? Remember now, the cost of building this ditch will be paid by you, Mr. Tax payer. The cost of its maintenance will likewise be paid by you also. Just how is New Castle to benefit? Cheaper transportation did you say? Cheaper for whom? Why cheaper for the canal boatmen because we pay for their right of way and the upkeep. Will the few hundred canal boatmen be better conditions for you, Mr. Merchant, than the five or six thousand of railroad families? I'll tell you what let's do. Let's pay, by taxing ourselves, the cost of maintenance of the tracks of the B. & O., the P. R. R. and the N. Y. C. between Beaver and Youngstown and I'll guarantee the railroads will haul all the freight that comes into New Castle free of charge. Sounds foolish, eh? Well suppose you call on

As casually as if they had drifted together in the traffic of the Strand or Piccadilly.

Mr. Sam Rhodes or Mr. Lawrence and ask them about it.

Did the idea of cheaper transportation by the proposed canal have any effect on the U. S. Steel Corporation when they decided to build their new plant at Irwin? Do you think these people are so dull that they are passing any bets that will benefit them? Why? Well I'll tell you why. The steel men know that the railroads are their best customers, when the railroads are buying, their mills are working, and one railroad will buy more steel than all the canals in America, Europe and Asia.

I hold no brief for the railroads but I do hold that in our railroads we have the soundest asset for our future and if given the same consideration in the matter of government subsidy as their competitors the utter futility of canal transportation would be so apparent that there would be no cause or reason for any further comment.

Put the highway, the water way and airway on an equal footing with the railroads in respect to taxation, subsidies, and government control and I'll guarantee that one of the principal causes of our present unemployment trouble will be solved, keeping in mind that railroads are not the properties of a few individuals but the investment of millions of our people.

Increased earnings for the railroads are reflected in lower rates for our insurance protection because of the immense sums invested by insurance companies in railroad securities. Were it not for the taxes paid by the railroads hundreds of our schools throughout the country would be obliged to close their doors. When a twenty five billion dollar organization, as the railroads are conceded to be fails to show a reasonable profit on the investors money it is reflected in every line of business, a fact to which every well informed business man will testify. When the railroads quit buying everybody suffers. So why should we hamstring our best customers with unfair competition, burdensome taxation and strict Federal regulation while allowing their competitors a free field? Why not be fair? Place all transportation on the same level. Then if they cannot match their rivals—let the Devil take the hindmost.

Still yours,
J. HERB McILVENNY.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Better babies being born means mothers are cooperating. Babies are getting a break nowadays.

They are healthier, happier and live longer. Twenty-five years ago twice as many babies died as do today. Now every baby should have all the chance there is to live.

Babies used to be swaddled in more clothes than an adult. Sun and night air were considered bad for them.

Mothers thought babies had to have the contagious diseases. Smallpox and diphtheria are wholly preventable today.

Whooping cough, measles, scarlet fever may be prevented or modified. Rickets and decayed teeth are unnecessary. Mother is learning how to bring up her baby in health.

Posters Drive Home Points On Character

Twenty-six selected Babson character posters, adopted by the Y. M. C. A. as a means of "putting across to young people constructive, common sense character building and ideas and ideals which will help them meet the problem of business and life," have been displayed at Senior high school, Boys' Work Director John D. Thompson reported today.

Concert Guild To Open Campaign

Membership Campaign To Open Monday Night With A Dinner In Castleton

With captains and team members ready to go, the membership campaign of the Metropolitan Concert Guild will open Monday night, April 17 in the Castleton Hotel with a workers' dinner starting it off. President Mrs. S. D. Pearson and Campaign Director Norman E. Clark are confident that the campaign will go over.

The Metropolitan Concert Guild replaces the Civic Music Association. With all details and arrangements made locally those in charge of the organization believe they can book concert attractions at a lower rate than if they are members of a national organization.

The same general plan that is used by Civic Music will be followed. The talent committee has already selected the attractions that come here. In October the Don Cossacks, famous Russian choir will be here. In November, Muz. Rosenthal, pianist, will be here, in December, Lucille Browning, of the Metropolitan Opera and Maurice Marchal, French cellist, will appear in joint recital. The fourth attraction will be the New Castle high school orchestra with some outstanding vocalist, to be named later.

Dr. J. J. McIlvenny of the First Presbyterian church will be the speaker Monday night and arrangements have been made to have at least part of the evening's program put out over the air. Following the address the workers will divide the prospect cards and the drive will be on.

Grangers Recall Day 'Love Bug' Bit Them

"How'd You Meet Your Wife," was the surprise roll call question put to the men of East New Castle grange at the regular grange meeting. Each told how—and each also commented on "What I Expect in a Wife."

A reading, "Father's Problem," by Harry Koach; another, "Thoughts on Fidelity," by John Weingartner and numerous Easter season stunts featured the program. Another highlight was a woman's wedding. During the meeting the charter was draped in honor of the late Luther Reed.

PROGRAM FOR ROTARIANS

Music by a male quartet and a brief talk on the history of music will highlight the New Castle Rotary club's luncheon meeting Monday, April 17. Ross D. Rosenberger will have charge.

Red Cross Board Members To Attend National Meeting

Executive Secretary And Committee Members Going To Washington

Plans are being made by the executive committee of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, to have a large representation from the Chapter attend the National Convention of the Red Cross in Washington, D. C., during the latter part of April.

Miss Margaret P. Bodenstein, the executive secretary of the Chapter, will attend the entire session, while several of the board members are planning to attend the Round Table discussions and the dinner, which occurs on April 25.

Chapter Chairman Ralph F. Davis will be accompanied to Washington by J. Glen Berry, vice chairman; Alex McCready, chairman of the board; and Mrs. John S. Crowl, chairman of volunteer service.

Miss Bodenstein will remain in Washington having received an invitation to attend the Executive Secretaries Conference the first week in May. This conference is for Executive Secretaries who have done an outstanding piece of work during the year and they are invited by Washington to meet the secretaries and solve problems pertaining to the Chapter program.

Gospel Mission To Have Musicians

Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock the Gospel Mission, at 413 Croton avenue, will have as guests the Rev. Roe Petty and his family, pastor of Everybody's Mission in Sharon, who will contribute a special impressive program.

Rev. Petty and members of his family have gained recognition for their religious entertainments in churches. In addition, he will deliver a special sermon.

MRS. JULIUS BLAHA RECOVERING IN N. Y.

Mrs. Julius Blaha, of 2 Houston avenue, Jamestown, N. Y., and formerly of Shadyside, Pittsburgh, and Winter avenue, New Castle, Pa., who underwent a very serious operation in the Jamestown General hospital on March 22, has recovered sufficiently to be returned to her home there.

Her daughter, Mrs. Richard J. Callahan, of Pittsburgh, is with her mother in Jamestown, where she will remain for several weeks.

Mrs. Blaha has many friends, who will read with interest, of her progress, her condition having been of a very serious nature.
